Madrid Exhibitions

Equilibrio y Naturaleza. Esculturas de José G. Onieva

The exhibition is a selection of 34 sculptures of pure equilibria, which is displayed on the Paseo del Rey, the Glorieta of Linnaeus, and some other parts of the Botanical outdoors.

The crown of each tree trunk rests on their respective wind as the rock, in constant movement.

"This exhibition is to some extent, an allegory about the importance of keeping our planet in its pure state, ie in a state of permanent equilibrium, matter for concern in these times when the consequences can be checking the excesses carried out by the man they acted in nature ". (Jose G. Onieva)
